

CONFLICT OF INTEREST?

Foreign Policy and Human Rights in Turkey

Panelist Biographies

Soner Cagaptay

Director of the Turkish Research Program at The Washington Institute

He has written extensively on U.S.-Turkish relations, Turkish domestic politics, and Turkish nationalism. He has been a regular columnist for Turkey's oldest and most influential English-language paper, and a contributor to CNN. He appears regularly on Fox News, CNN, NPR, BBC, and CNN-Turk. His latest book was published in September 2019. His books have been translated into Turkish, Italian, Greek, and Croatian.

Deniz Yuksel

Turkey Advocacy Specialist at Amnesty International

Previously, she conducted research on Turkish foreign policy in the Middle East, U.S.-Turkey relations, Turkey's domestic politics, refugees, human rights, and religious freedom at the Washington Institute for Near East Policy, Foundation for Defense of Democracies, Middle East Institute, and the Turkish Industry and Business Association (TÜSİAD). Prior to that, she designed and taught a human rights education course in partnership with the Mother Child Education Foundation (AÇEV) in Istanbul, Turkey.